

I am complaining about the superbowl halftime show on CBS. It is deeply disturbing to me that the entertainment media has resorted to public nudity and indecency to get ratings. I hope that FCC will step in and find out how something like this could happen on one of the most widely viewed events on TV. I am thankful that my family was not watching at the time, but they could have been as we watch the superbowl together. It will not be viewed by me or my family next year.
